

Assistant to the Manager - Allawah Brahman Stud

Allawah Brahman Stud, operates an intensive bull breeding operation near Biloela in Central Queensland which underpins CPC's genetics program using artificial insemination and embryo transfer programs on a herd of 650 stud Brahman breeders joined to Brahman, Tropical Composite, Belmont Red and a separate Boran breeding herd.

The position offers an exciting opportunity to learn from an experienced and performance driven management team at both Allawah and within CPC. Scope for progression within the company in stud or commercial roles includes opportunities to travel to other operations within CPC.

We are looking for a motivated and dependable person to assist the manager in day to day operations with the following key attributes;

- excellent communication skills
- attention to detail and accurate record keeping
- good animal husbandry
- general knowledge and experience in all aspects of property maintenance
- have a committed outlook to WHS
- good horse riding skills

Desirable skills that are an advantage but not essential include;

- low stress stock handling
- pregnancy testing
- artificial insemination

We offer an attractive remuneration package including formal and informal training, a large partly furnished 5-bedroom house that is separate to the main station complex. Limited work is available for partner doing general station work.
